

Pi Mu Epsilon

the mathematics honors society for university students

Thursday, October 5, 2017
12:15-12:50 PM in Hume 101

Dr. Laura Sheppardson

When will I use this in real life?

What are you going to do with your math major? Math majors are in high demand in the job market. However, you're unlikely to find a job ad for a mathematician. I'll talk about opportunities beyond academia, what employers want, and how to get it. With this being the first meeting of the year, I'll also share information on opportunities to watch for, including research, conferences, and competitions.

A one-time payment of $10 covers your pizza lunch for all meetings this semester!

See you Thursday!
